You are the user. From all the components involved you are the only human. You want to access the information of a certain website.

Who do you know?

- Browser: Tiger123

Your tasks

1. Check your inbox and look at the new message.
2. Take the URL mentioned in the message.
3. Create a message containing that URL saying that you would like to see the corresponding webpage.
4. Give this message to the Browser

Wait for an answer... (this might take a while)

4. Once you received the answer, share the result with the class. Did you get back an actual webpage to look at?
